

Special Service Medical Statement

ENMU-Roswell maintains a health clinic at scheduled times during the week which is open to all students of the university. A nurse-practitioner is on duty at these times to provide limited health care services. During their stay at ENMU-Roswell, we strongly encourage students to designate a doctor in the Roswell area as their primary care physician and a pharmacy where prescriptions can be picked up.

If student becomes ill while attending ENMU-Roswell, it will be the responsibility of the student to make and keep doctor's appointments, transport himself/herself to the doctor's office, obtain prescribed medication(s), and administer his/her own medications. In the event of an emergency, an ambulance will be called and student/parents may be responsible for all costs (ambulance, ER, etc.) incurred relating to the incident. Also, it is the student's/parent's responsible to insure that their insurance coverage will be accepted at the primary care physician's office and designated pharmacy. Students/parents are ultimately responsible for payment of all health care costs.

I have read and understand the ENMU-Roswell Special Services Medical Statement:
