

Why EMS?

- EMS is one of the fastest-growing occupations in the U.S.
- There will be a demand for 37,400 new EMS providers by 2026.
- With an aging population and continued emergency situations, EMS providers will be in high demand for the foreseeable future.
- ENMU-Roswell EMS Education program was one of the first free-standing EMS Education Programs in New Mexico and has been accredited since 1989 with an overall pass rate of 98% on the NREMT Paramedic Exam.

Program Overview

The Paramedic provides the most extensive pre-hospital care, and may work for fire departments, private ambulance services, or hospitals. Paramedics are in high demand nationwide. ENMU-Roswell's Paramedic Program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs and the New Mexico EMS Bureau. Upon acceptance into the Paramedic Program, students begin a 18 month program of study leading to a Paramedic Certificate of Occupational Training. Following completion, candidates sit for the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians (NREMT) Exam. Mandatory background checks and drug screens are required for all students enrolled in the paramedic core courses.

Completion Options

Students wishing to apply must be New Mexico licensed EMT basics and meet other preadmission criteria. Students must complete Human Systems, Pathophysiology and Development (EMS 203) as well as Introduction to Paramedic Practice (EMS 202) before being admitted into the program.

Students that earn the Associate of Applied Science degree in EMS may transfer into the B.A.A.S program at ENMU.

See the current catalog for the complete certificate requirements. Course availability varies each semester.
