

Why Occupational Therapy Assistant?

- Occupational therapy focuses on the restoration of skills and abilities.
- Unlike other professions, occupational therapy practitioners have a holistic perspective to help people function in all of their environments (e.g., home, work, school, community).
- Occupational therapy practitioners address the physical, psychological, and cognitive aspects of their well-being through engagement in occupation.
- ENMU-Roswell's OTA program has been nationally recognized for quality and has been accredited since 1994.

Program Overview

Occupational Therapy Assistants work under the supervision of a Registered Occupational Therapist to help people across the life span participate in the things they want and need to do through the therapeutic use of everyday activities (occupations). The Occupational Therapy Assistant Program (OTA) is a two-year program of study. Application to the OTA Program is required. Student enrollment in the OTA core courses is limited. The OTA program curriculum includes three semesters of core coursework followed by 16 weeks of Level II Fieldwork. This clinical experience is mandatory and will require out-of-town travel and housing expenses. Through Level II Fieldwork experiences, students will help people with various psychosocial and physical performance challenges. Students will also learn various delivery models reflective of current practice in the profession.

Completion Options

Students can earn an Associate of Science in Occupational Therapy Assistant. Graduates of the program will be able to sit for the national certification examination for the occupational therapy assistant administered by the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy (NBCOT).

The A.S. in Occupational Therapy Assistant transfers into a Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences (B.A.A.S.) degree program at ENMU. Mandatory background checks and drug screenings are required for students enrolled in the program.

See the current catalog for the complete degree program. Course availability varies each semester.
